“It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who, at worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.”

Teddy Roosevelt

Benchmarks

High expectations yield higher achievement. A clear understanding of what is expected for success can help each student achieve. Student achievement is why we are in business. With that in mind, the district has developed benchmarks and corresponding indicators of success for all Savannah-Chatham County Public Schools. We are doing this because we want our students to be able to compete in the world of work – locally, regionally and globally.

As students advance from grade to grade, their academic performance at key junctures will indicate our progress in reaching these benchmarks. State assessments at grades 3, 5, 6, 8 and 11 will be used for this purpose. Success in reaching the benchmarks is determined by performance on state tests. Student performance on these test will serve as a “snapshot” of each students readiness to successfully meet or exceed standards.

High expectations yield higher achievement. With these benchmarks, we have taken the first step toward the creation of a learning environment dedicated to raising standards and producing results.

The benchmarks and corresponding indicators of success reflect the state and national learning standards and will be supported by the district’s curriculum, instructional practices, assessments, and good management practices and leadership. To help students reach high levels of performance at all grade levels, we will continue to provide opportunities that will enable high-achieving students to excel, while helping other students to improve.

We have taken the first step in creating a learning environment dedicated to raising standards and producing results. More is on the way.

The following figures outline the district’s benchmarks and indicator of success based on measures of student performance.

The CRCT is designed to measure how well students acquire the skills and knowledge described in the Quality Core Curriculum (QCC). The assessments yield information on academic achievement at the student, class, school, system and state levels. This information is used to diagnose individual student strengths and weaknesses as related to the instruction of the QCC, and to gauge the quality of education throughout Georgia.

The ITBS is a norm-referenced test(NRT). Scores from a NRT are used to compare the performance of Georgia's students with the performance of students in a national sample, in the same grade who took the test at the same point in the school year. The performance of students in Georgia is compared to students in the norm group. The results of an NRT are used for evaluation, decision-making, and instructional improvement.

The State Writing Assessment Advisory Council assisted the Georgia Department of Education in developing the writing component of the student assessment program. The council, consisting of educators with expertise in the instruction of writing skills and writing assessment, is made up of a Grade 3 and 5 committee and a Grades 8 and 11 Committee. The goal of the Writing Assessment Advisory Council and the Department of Education was to create developmentally appropriate assessment procedures to enhance statewide instruction in the language arts. The statewide writing assessment serves the purpose of improving writing and writing instruction.

The GHSGT is a result of Georgia law (O. C. G. A. § 20-2-281) which requires that curriculum-based on assessments be administered in grade 11 for graduation purposes. The Department, together with Georgia educators, developed and administers the English/Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies Test in response to this law.

The SAT is administered by the College Board and is designed to measure verbal and quantitative reasoning skills, developed over many years of education, that are related to academic performance in college. SAT scores are statistically controlled to maintain the same meaning from year-to-year.

The Advanced Placement (AP) program is designed to provide college credit and appropriate placement to secondary school students who have successfully mastered college-level course work. The College Board sponsors the AP program with technical operational services provided by Educational Testing Services (ETS) in Princeton, New Jersey.
